A Letter Expressing Support for Candidate Mr. Jared Goldman

November 9, 2026

Gentlemen of The Rittenhouse Club,

I am honored to write to you in support of Jared Goldman's candidacy for membership in The Rittenhouse Club.

I first met Jared through the Wharton Real Estate Club and was immediately struck by his positive energy, easygoing demeanor, and genuine friendliness. He is someone who can strike up a conversation with just about anyone and make them feel welcome. I am confident he will bring that same warmth, enthusiasm, and dedication to our community.

Originally from a Jewish family in Los Angeles, Jared attended Harvard-Westlake School before graduating magna cum laude from the University of Southern California. Prior to Wharton, he spent four years at Bellwether (an institutional real estate advisory and asset management firm) working in real estate debt, developing a strong foundation in real estate finance and investing. His academic achievements and professional experience reflect both intellectual curiosity and strong work ethic.

Since arriving at Wharton (after spending most of his life on the west coast), Jared has distinguished himself as an engaged and respected member of our community. Within the Real Estate Club, he was selected to serve as Chief of Staff, a recognition of his industry knowledge and ability to bring people together. Separately, he has also been entrusted with helping plan the Future of Cities Conference, an initiative that reflects his passion for understanding how emerging technologies will reshape the built environment. Jared came to Wharton to explore careers beyond real estate, but, since arriving, it's become clear that he is excited about contributing to the future of the industry.

What I have appreciated most about Jared is his character. I've observed that he carries himself with humility, approaching others with genuine curiosity and respect. He is outgoing, compassionate, and always willing to engage with people from different backgrounds and perspectives. He is the type of person who makes a community stronger just by being part of it.

I believe Jared embodies the qualities that make an exceptional member of The Rittenhouse Club: intellectual curiosity, integrity, ambition, and a sincere commitment to building meaningful relationships. I recommend him and am confident he will be a great addition to the Club.

Jared Goldman's candidacy is seconded by Mr. JD Smeallie ('27) and Mr. Tyler Patterson ('27).

In the Bonds,

Mr. Daniel Shlayen
The Rittenhouse Club
Class of 2027
